

Your Task:

You have been learning a lot about how random acts of kindness affect others. Your task is to make a PowerPoint presentation to teach others about the charity you researched.

Requirements:

You will make a 5-slide PowerPoint presentation.

Slides:

1. This slide should include the title of your charity and what your charity does.
For example, The Ronald McDonald House Charities® (RMHC) of Canada helps children with life-threatening illnesses or disabilities. They let parents live close to the hospital so they can be by their child when he or she is at the hospital.

2. This slide should tell why your charity is important.
For example, Free the Children helps all children get an education. This is important because all children should get to go to school.

3. This slide should tell what areas of the world your charity helps.
For example, The Kids Cancer Care Foundation helps children with cancer in the province of Alberta.

4. This slide should tell 3 different ways that people can help
For example, People can help to provide bed kits for children around the world by:
 - i) Making a donation to the charity for bed kits*
 - ii) Raising money through a fundraiser*
 - iii) Telling people about the charity*

5. This slide should tell who made the slideshow, your grade, your school, and the year.

Your slide show should have different animations and/or slide transition to make it interesting to the audience. Slides should also use different fonts that are readable to the audience. You can also add clip art to the slide show.
